Senior accountants and partners from the accounting firm of Ford-Scott & Associates, LLC of Ocean City, New Jersey will be tutoring Atlantic Cape Community College baseball players and other students in accounting.

“This is an important step forward for us,” said Michael Sargente, Tutoring Coordinator for Atlantic Cape. “We have a tremendous and very successful tutoring program for our students, but accounting has been one area where we have historically needed additional support. We are immensely grateful for Ford-Scott’s willingness to help our students.”

Atlantic Cape’s Buccaneer Baseball program puts great emphasis on its student/athletes pursuing academic excellence. Last year, the team average GPA was over 3.0. “We are here to help get these kids to the next level academically and athletically,” said Rod Velardi, Head Baseball Coach at Atlantic Cape. “Academics come first. We set high goals for our student/athletes, but we also give them the tools and resources they need to achieve those goals. Having Ford-Scott tutor our student/athletes is a great arrow to have in that quiver.”

Jamal Edwards, Atlantic Cape’s new Athletic Director, also had high praise for Ford-Scott. “These professionals taking time out of their busy schedules to tutor and mentor our collegiate student/athletes embodies the values, such as selflessness and community service, we promote at Atlantic Cape.”

“When we heard about the need at Atlantic Cape, we were happy to get involved,” said John Sabella, Partner at Ford-Scott. “Giving back to our community is part of our culture here at the firm. What could be better than helping our own Community college?”

Atlantic Cape Community College provides affordable quality higher education in a broad range of academic disciplines, including business, science, engineering, aviation, nursing, biomedical, humanities, culinary arts and more.
